"IT WAVES FOR ALL"

GREENCASTLE, INDIANA, THURSDAY, SEPTEMBER 14, 1944.

NO. 282

MISS DANIELS NEW SECRETARY OF GOBIN CHURCH

MISS M. E. OFFICIAL COMES TO GREENCASTLE FROM MEL-
ROSE PARK, ILL.

Miss Barbara J. Daniels, formerly of Melrose Park, Illinois has recently come to Greencastle to serve as Student Work Secretary at Gobin Memorial Church. Plans made by Gobin Church officers and representatives to the three Methodist conferences of the state several years ago are thus moved one step nearer realization.

Miss Daniels will serve as office manager and secretary of Gobin Church with special responsibility for advising and aiding students in religious activities at the church. She comes from a background of business experience with the International Council of Religious Education and with the Bell Telephone Company, both of Chicago. Methodist South Fellowships in the Chicago area have recognized her religious leadership by electing her to their highest offices. Until two weeks ago she held the presidency of the Rock River Conference Methodist Youth Fellowship. The Chicago Federation of Youth Fellowships, the Chicago Western District MYF and the Chicago Christian Youth Council, all have worked under her presidency at various times.

The new opening at Gobin Church is the result of extensive planning by the Interconference Commission of the Methodist Student Work in Indiana, by the three Methodist conference Boards of Education and by the Commissions on World Service and Finance in the same conferences. Mr. James Pence, 615 Ridge Avenue, has served as a member of the Interconference Commission in the planning work. Eighty percent of the salary of the new staff member is being paid by the Methodist Church of the entire state.

The Rev. John Tennant, pastor, also announces that Mrs. Vera Blanchard, 1 Towers Apartment, a well known resident of Greencastle, has accepted the position of Financial Secretary of the Gobin Memorial Church.

Governor Dewey 'Invades' Wyoming

ABOARD DEWEY CAMPAIGN TRAIN, Sept. 14.—(UP)—Governor Thomas E. Dewey resumed his campaign swing across the country today, following two days of conferences with cattle ranchers at Valentine, Neb., and for the first time since he left Albany, invaded a state with a Democratic governor—Wyoming.

The presidential nominee, who will deliver seven major campaign speeches and sound out local sentiment on various campaign issues on his cross-country tour, scheduled conferences with leaders of veterans, livestock, agriculture, sugar-beet and GOP organizations during a seven-hour stop at Sheridan today and will move on to Billings, Mont., tonight for a similar round of conferences tomorrow.

Dewey is using the private conference method to sound out local groups on their complaints against the Roosevelt administration and their recommendations for changes if he wins election to the White House in November.

At the conclusion of his conferences at Valentine yesterday, Dewey told a press conference the men he met were greatly disturbed over the apparent failure of the Roosevelt administration to prepare for dealing with the range cattle surplus which they foresee when the war ends.

He blamed government regulations for the fact that there is beef rationing despite the fact that there are 10,000,000 more head of cattle on the ranges today than would be considered a normal supply.

Asked whether the ranchers advocated lifting of all regulatory measures, he said:

"Let's say they believe that a better job could be done if the handling of the cattle industry would be placed in the hands of men who know something about it. That certainly would be novel under this administration."

Dewey also suggested at his press conference that "now that General MacArthur no longer is a political threat" to President Roosevelt "his talents be given greater scope and recognition."

His statement was in reply to a question asking him to comment on reports that the selection of an overall commander for the Pacific war is one of the principal subjects of discussion at the Quebec conference between President Roosevelt and Prime Minister Churchill.

"I am not suggesting the name of an over-all commander since many international political problems are involved as well as military questions," Dewey said. "I am suggesting that adequate recognition and supplies commensurate with MacArthur's talent is long overdue."

MacArthur had performed miracles with inadequate supplies and has demonstrated extraordinary generalship, Dewey said.

"Time after time he has made landings on heavily defended, long prepared islands and almost every time he has managed to land at the exact spot where the Japanese were not," he said.

Dewey's swing into western cattle country solved a pressing problem for many of the radio, magazine and newspaper correspondents who have been without laundry service since the special train left New York a week ago today.

To stretch the dwindling supply of white business shirts, "long-mileage" cowboy shirts, some of riotous color but always dark enough to withstand repeated wearings without showing excess soil, became the vogue among the press corps.

FRENCH WANT FULL VOICE IN ALLIED PLANS

MATTER OF OCCUPATION OF GERMANY IS DISCUSSED AT QUEBEC

QUEBEC, Sept. 14.—(UP)—British Foreign Secretary Anthony Eden will join the Anglo-American war talks immediately, his sudden trip from Great Britain indicating that the Roosevelt-Churchill conferences have broadened far beyond purely military question, it was learned today.

QUEBEC, Sept. 14. (UP)—French demand for a full voice in the allied program for occupation of Germany and throttling of war-breeding German elements posed fresh problems today in the European phase of the Roosevelt-Churchill conference.

It was no coincidence that General Charles De Gaulle chose the time of this meeting to declare before his cabinet in Paris: "We believe that in the better interests of all mankind the arrangements which tomorrow will govern the fate of conquered Germany should not be discussed and adopted without France."

Similarly there was no doubt that those arrangements are being discussed here—without France—as President Roosevelt and Prime Minister Churchill wander over the global field of political problems in between their basic talks on the future conduct of the Pacific war.

The Pacific program was believed to have been set forth in general terms by now and referred to the military staffs for development in detail. It was expected these plans then would be brought back to Mr. Roosevelt and Churchill for final approval before they take leave of each other this week-end.

With American troops already in Germany, Russian troops on the East Prussian border and the end of the European war deemed a virtual certainty this year, the plans for Germany were the most important of the European problems tackled by the President and Prime Minister.

North Carolina In Path Of Hurricane

BEAUFORT, N. C., Sept. 14 (UP)—A "killer" hurricane was descending upon the North Carolina coast early today and its center containing winds of sufficient velocity to wipe out towns and kill scores was expected to hit in the vicinity of this town before noon.

Weather bureau advisories indicated it was the worst hurricane since the great storm of Sept. 3, 1935, that killed 300 persons in the Florida keys. The wind velocity in its center was placed at 140 miles an hour and the convulsions were so extensive that storm warnings were posted as far north as Atlantic City, N. J.

On the possibility of a sudden change in direction, the federal hurricane warning service placed all of the east coast northward from Florida to Eastport, Me., on a hurricane alert.

Rapidly falling barometers and howling winds mounting in fury and sound heralded its arrival along the low-lying Carolina coast from Wilmington northward. Heavy seas were running and residents of beaches and coastal lowlands had fled or were fleeing inland.

University Holds Assembly Program

Faculty, apprentice seamen in the V-12 unit, and civilian students at DePauw University met today in the first combined assembly program of the fall half-semester, inaugurated by President Clyde E. Wildman with an address entitled "Defeating the Jungle." The new program opens a series of weekly assembly periods for the combined student and faculty groups during the remaining of the present session, which ends October 21.

President Wildman's theme concerned man's struggle to keep the lights of civilization and truth alive, fighting for "every inch of spiritual, too-hold we have." Political corruption, selfishness, greed, pride, vaulting individual and national ambition, and war are some of the "jungle creepers" constantly encroaching upon the contemporary social order he said, citing the recent discovery of the gas chambers at Lubin, Poland, where 18,000 Poles, Jews and political prisoners were killed in one day as an example of this encroachment.

It is the business of education and of religions, however, to overcome the defeatist theories of the decline of civilization, education, and human worth, Dr. Wildman pointed out. "History may repeat itself," he said, "but it is our business to see to it that in its undesirable aspects it does not repeat itself." He asked college-trained men and women to clear the jungles in individual and social life and not to be afraid to espouse the cause of an ideal, "for an ideal like a river, has its source in the sky."

DEATH TOLL IN RAIL TRAGEDY GROWS HOURLY

UNOFFICIAL REPORT AT NOON
FROM TERRE HAUTE SAID
OVER 50 KILLED

Bulletin

Unofficial reports from Terre Haute this afternoon indicated the death toll would be much heavier than early reports, as these unverified claims said the death list had reached more than 50 at noon.

COLUMBUS, O., Sept. 14.—(UP)—The Fifth Service Command public relations office announced today that as of 7 a. m. 25 dead victims and 61 injured had been removed from the wreckage of the Dixie Flyer which collided with a northbound mail train near Terre Haute, Ind., at 2:20 a. m. today.

The public relations office of the command at Fort Hayes said that it is "expected that many more still are in the wreckage."

Three passenger cars of fliers, officers and enlisted men, some of whom recently returned from fighting in Italy, were aboard the train.

Lt. E. B. Owens, 29, Chicago, an army officer aboard the Flyer, said there were 48 soldiers in the first car which was demolished and at least 15 were killed.

The dead also included the engineer on one of the trains who was killed outright, a fireman who was scalded to death in the cab and one other crewman. One fireman escaped serious injury by jumping from the engine just before the crash.

Police said the mail train, which carried no passengers, was stopped when the Flyer, running in a heavy fog, crashed into it.

Ralph E. Smith, a resident of North Terre Haute, said that the engine and the first car on each of the trains were demolished. The first cars were sheared off at the floor, he said, and the super-structures were piled up on the tenders of the locomotives.

There were 14 cars on the passenger train, which left Chicago at 10:05 p. m. last night, and eight cars on the mail train.

All available ambulances and doctors in Terre Haute were rushed to the scene and the dead and injured were removed to Terre Haute hospitals. The armory at Terre Haute also was turned into a temporary hospital and many of the injured were taken there, police said.

"I was asleep in the second car and all I remember was waking up in the aisle," Lt. Owens reported. "Our car was derailed and tipped over on its side but the other cars on the Dixie Flyer remained upright."

"There were 48 soldiers in the first car and I counted 15 bodies as they were removed from the wreckage, there were at least two or three more in there."

"I helped with the injured until I became too ill to continue," Owens said.

Smith said he held lights while the soldiers dug their comrades out of the wreckage. He said the two engines were jammed together up to their cylinders.

Smith said he saw the bodies of about eight or ten more men lying around in the field near the tracks.

Attendants at Union and St. Anthony's hospitals said that 15 of the dead were brought in there and many of the injured were hurt so critically that some may die.

Smith said the baggageman on one of the trains was injured but refused first aid until the soldiers were treated.

He said the baggageman told him that one of the engineers was killed outright and the other was scalded seriously. He also said that one fireman was scalded to death but the other escaped injury by jumping before the locomotives crashed.

Railroad officials said an investigation would be started immediately. Indiana State Police and military police from Fort Benjamin Harrison at Indianapolis, were rushed to the scene to assist in removing the injured to hospitals.

Sheriff Paul Grimes and state policemen from the Putnamville post were summoned to the scene by Terre Haute authorities to aid in guarding the wreckage and assisting in any possible manner.

It was reported that a number of mattresses were sent from the Indiana State Farm for use in the care of the injured.

Carrier Planes Hit Philippines

PEARL HARBOR, Sept. 14 (UP)—A major aerial battle was developing today over the Philippines where American carrier planes hit the center of the archipelago Monday and probably still were attacking.

Admiral Chester W. Nimitz, in announcing the raid in which more than 200 Japanese planes and many cargo vessels were destroyed, said fragmentary reports indicated the air operations against the Philippines "are continuing against the enemy's opposition."

The scope of the campaign was indicated by Gen. Douglas MacArthur's disclosure at the Southwest Pacific headquarters that four eastern air force bombers carried out new attacks on the Philippines and the protective bases from Palau in the east to the Moluccas in the south.

The weight of the intensified offensive was being carried by Admiral William F. Halsey's third fleet—a powerful fighting force of battleships, cruisers, destroyers and aircraft carriers.

In the new attacks, Halsey's carrier planes concentrated on Cebu, Negros and Panay islands, the latter less than 200 miles south of Manila and Bataan where MacArthur intends to return in triumph.

More than 50 Japanese planes were shot down and upwards of 150 were destroyed on the ground at the three islands, lying strategically in the center of the archipelago. In addition, several ships and numerous small cargo craft were sunk.

The raid on the Central Islands followed closely upon Halsey's attack on Mindanao, largest and southernmost of the Philippines, where 89 ships and 68 planes were destroyed or damaged.

From Nimitz' reference to "strong enemy opposition," it appeared that the Japanese were making their definite attempt in some time to halt the increasing blows from central and Southwest Pacific forces, particularly those by Halsey's fleet which has been attacking in the Philippines theater since Sept. 5. It has hit the Philippines twice with carrier planes and the Palaus, 560 miles to the east, five times with planes and once with battleships and cruisers.

The campaign seemed to be following a pattern similar to that which led to the invasion of the Marianas, Carrier planes and surface vessels, including battleships, bombarded that island group, 1,500 miles south of Tokyo, almost daily for more than 10 days before troops landed on Saipan.

Cebu, a long narrow island north of Mindanao, is separated from Negros, a smaller island, by the Tanon strait. Its principal city of Cebu is only 375 miles south of Manila and has a good airfield and a harbor large enough for ocean going vessels. Panay is north of Negros and its northern tip is less than 200 miles from Manila. Panay's main city, Iloilo, is the leading port on the Visayan sea.

While Halsey's carrier force was hitting from the sea, MacArthur sent land-based bombers at Zamboanga, on the southwestern tip of Mindanao, to attack the airdrome. Previous raids at Zamboanga were against shipping.

YANKS SWEEP INTO GERMANY ON WIDE FRONT

NAZIS MAY BE PULLING OUT OF SIEGFRIED LINE TO RHINE RIVER

WITH U. S. ARMORED DIVISION IN GERMANY, Sept. 14, 4:30 p. m.—(UP)—American armored forces pushed their way deeper into the outer fortifications of the Siegfried Line against stubborn German resistance in an all-day offensive thrust today.

The big Siegfried Line bastion of Aachen now is threatened directly, and is under United States artillery fire.

The further penetration of the fortified belt's fringe was made in the vicinity of Rotgen, 10 miles south of Aachen.

German opposition, while stiff at spots, lacked coordination as the U. S. tanks, backed up by artillery and closely supported by engineers with TNT, battered into the steel and concrete network.

American casualties were "not too heavy" considering the frontal attack against the highly propagandized and allegedly impregnable west wall. A German train at Aachen was destroyed by artillery fire.

SUPREME HEADQUARTERS, AEF, Sept. 14.—(UP)—American 1st Army tank and infantry divisions swept into Germany on an 85-mile front today, overrunning the outer works of the Siegfried Line at a number of points.

Headquarters sources indicated the Nazis may be pulling out of their west wall to a new fortified belt, on the Rhine, 35 to 70 miles inside the frontier.

"First Army forces are making a general advance on their entire front into Germany," United Press War Correspondent Joseph W. Grigg reported in a dispatch from 12th Army group headquarters in the field.

Several small towns inside the Reich were captured as the Americans broke across the border and struck into the Siegfried fortifications.

The invasion of Germany was on in force everywhere along the 1st Army front from the Aachen sector in the north to the Moselle line below Trier where Lt. Gen. George S. Patton's 3rd Army poured tanks, guns and men across the river to join in the assault on the Nazi homeland.

The 1st Army spearheads, reinforced steadily by long columns of men and armor moving in from the west, met surprisingly little opposition in their initial advance into the Reich and headquarters spokesmen intimated a general withdrawal from the Siegfried Line might be under way.

The Germans also were pulling out of their formidable defenses along the Albert canal in northern Belgium in the face of a powerful British 2nd Army offensive that broke into Holland at a number of points.

Only at the northern end of the American line were the 1st Army invaders meeting determined resistance. United Press War Correspondent Jack Frankish reported that a famous infantry division fought its way up through the Aachen state forest from the south to within four miles or less of Aachen last night.

His dispatch was delayed many hours in transit and it was believed possible the doughboys might already have reached the big communications center, which would be the first major prize of the invasion.

From where I sit... by Joe Marsh

Soldiers vs. Civilians in Tomorrow's World

You hear some talk about how—when the war is over—there's going to be bad feeling between soldiers and civilians; how the country will be divided into those who fought in uniform and those who stayed at home.

Well, maybe you saw that letter from a soldier overseas, in one of our big magazines. It said that men in uniform aren't thinking any such thoughts—any more than folks at home are.

The most important thing is, that we're all engaged in one titanic struggle to preserve our freedom and our rights—just as soldiers or civilians—just as Americans!

From where I sit, that attitude is going to win the war—and the Peace too. If we can respect the rights of others—whether it's their right to enjoy a glass of beer, or to vote the way they please—we've got a mighty sound foundation for our peace time world.
